St. Anselm

Our Patron Saint

St. Anselm School was first established in the year 1904 in Ajmer by the arrival of the Capuchin fathers in Rajasthan. The school was named after the example of the famous saint of 10th Century St. Anselm whose motto was 'DEO AMABILES ET HOMINIBUS' which means 'Be Lovable to God and to all Human Beings'. Following the legacy of the age old school, Morning Star St. Anselm School also has chosen this great saint as the school Patron, who was not only an intellectual saint of his time but also the most holy, humble and simple person.

St. Anselm was born in Aosta in the Italian Alps. His mother was a good and a pious woman. From her he learnt his first lessons in love and charity. At a young age he decided to become a monk and dedicate his life to God. Soon his superiors discovered his intellectual abilities and he was made an Abbot against his will. His fame having spread far and wide, the king of England invited him to be his counselor. Having served the king, Anselm intended to return to his country but the king begged him to be the Archbishop of Canterbury.

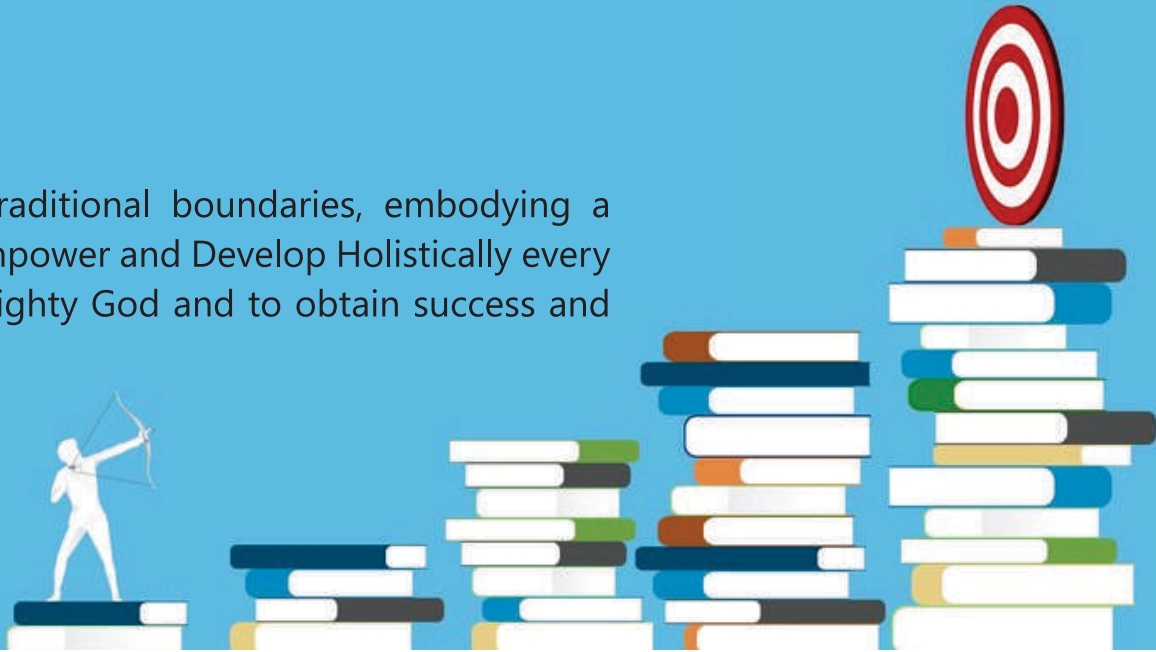

Anselm refused the honour but he was literally forced to take up the job on popular demand and was consecrated Archbishop of Canterbury on 4th December, 1093. But St. Anselm refused to give into the evil designs of the king and for this he suffered a great deal. He always did what was right and what was useful to other people. He was the greatest intellectual of his times. Besides, he is hailed as the father of the Scholastic Theology.

His Chief achievement in Philosophy was the Ontological Argument for the existence of God put forth in his famous thesis 'Prosologium' in which he affirmed "God is that than which nothing greater can be thought". We hope that under the patronage of this great Saint, the students imbibe his intellectual zeal for truth and his moral teachings to make them proficient in wisdom and develop a sound character.

PRINCIPAL'S DESK

John Adams says, "There are two purposes of education. One should teach us how to make a living and the other how to live".

If we want to make every student accomplish the above objective, then each pupil must be encouraged and given an opportunity to participate in academics and co-curricular activities, whereby the educational system could instil in them qualities and learning behaviours such as taking positive risks, setting attainable goals, viewing errors as opportunities, being open to feedback and critically evaluating their own progress.

So, in this era of cut throat competition, it is of paramount importance to be equipped with appropriate knowledge, habits, attitudes, co-curricular and extra-curricular activities, and values leading to holistic development. They not only inculcate social and moral values, compassion for nature, pride for Indian culture and tradition and awareness for one's rights and duties but also make students good human beings and confident leaders. I intently believe that the students would develop versatile personality during their stay in this temple of learning.

Morning Star St. Anselm's School makes education a pleasant and joyful experience for students by providing opportunities to blossom their moral values and creativity. It strives to focus on academic excellence with a holistic approach to education, accompanied by a team of well qualified, dedicated, and passionate staff, coupled with co-curricular and cultural activities and personality development programs.
